

Registration of Additional Skin Piercing Activities Department of Health-Updated Skin Piercing Model Byelaw

Purpose of this Report

To inform Members that the Department of Health have produced a consolidated model byelaw for adoption by local authorities allowing the registration of persons and businesses carrying on skin piercing, micro-pigmentation, semi-permanent make up and temporary tattooing activities.

Information

The Department of Health has produced a consolidated model byelaw combining acupuncture, ear-piercing, electrolysis and tattooing with semi-permanent tattooing and cosmetic piercing. The new byelaw model followed earlier changes brought about by the Local Government Act 2003 (Section 120 and Schedule 6) which allowed local authorities to adopt provisions requiring those carrying on skin piercing and micro-pigmentation, semi-permanent make up and temporary tattooing to register themselves and their premises.

There are health benefits for bringing these businesses under the same regulatory framework that currently exists for acupuncture, tattooing, ear piercing and electrolysis, including contributing to the general protection of health of customers, reducing the specific risk of blood-borne viruses such as Hepatitis B and C and specifying cleanliness standards for premises and fittings. Before this extension of regulation to body piercing the only control for body piercing businesses resided in the quite general provisions of the Health and Safety at Work etc. Act 1974, Section 3 (protection of members of the public in work premises).

Many authorities such as Gedling adopted the earlier provisions contained in the Local Government (Miscellaneous Provisions) Act 1982 allowing the registration of skin piercers performing acupuncture, tattooing, ear piercing and electrolysis and had made byelaws to better control hygiene and cleanliness at such businesses. The other authorities in Nottinghamshire have either taken up or are looking to adopt the extended provisions which will provide a more consistent and up to date approach to skin piercing in the county.

The Department of Health has acted on the wishes of many local authorities and produced a single consolidating byelaw that authorities can adopt for all skin piercing activities. It is now considered timely to adopt both the wider hygiene controls afforded by the Local Government Act and the single consolidating byelaw.

The Department of Health has produced guidance on the byelaw application process, which officers will be able to follow when making a byelaw submission to the Secretary of State. Notice of the intention of this Authority to apply for a byelaw must be advertised in a local newspaper. A copy of the model byelaw is reproduced as Appendix 1.

Implications

Existing premises registered within this area for skin piercing will continue to be counted as registered for cosmetic piercing unless more extensive body piercing is ever provided when a new registration would be required. Any new skin/cosmetic piercing practitioners and their premises in this area would need to carry out a one-off registration with this Authority.

During 2009-10 letters will be sent out to all known registered skin piercers explaining the implications of the Local Government Act and local byelaws and officers will be able to discuss any matters arising with proprietors. Although adopting the byelaw will add to the initial work of officers this can be accommodated in the work programmed for the coming year.

Recommendations

Committee is recommended to approve for full Council adoption the production of a new single consolidated byelaw for acupuncture, tattooing, semi-permanent skin-colouring, cosmetic piercing and electrolysis for Gedling.
